1. A shaman is a medicine man.
2. The Shaman asked the sickness to leave the boy.
3. The Sipaliwini River.
4. While his father hunted, Kamanya swam and fished in the river's clean waters and ran free as the wind through the forest with the other boys.

Silver

1. Kamanya lived in the Tirio Indian village of Kwamala. Give yes/no reason and why you would/wouldn't like to live there.
2. Kamanya would never forget that the Shaman saved his life. I think this because if he hasn't he would have died and never seen his family again.
3. Kamanya is a curious boy who hoped he could learn the Shaman's wisdom and one day become a Shaman.
4. Kamanya's mother and sister do the following jobs:
   - Bathed and washed the family's clothes in the River
   - Grew cotton and spun it into cloth
   - Ground up achiote berries to dye the cloth red
   - Harvested cassava root and made it into bread

Gold

1. They did these jobs and Kamanya didn't because he was a young boy and these were jobs for females.
2. I think the Shaman helped Kamanya because not only did he cure his illness but he taught him all the important things he needed to do to become a successful shaman.
3. I think Kamanya liked to follow the shaman because he was interested in how he used plants to save people's lives as his life had been saved by the Shaman.
4. Own relevant prediction that fits with the story line.
